What Farmers Should Know about Farm Foreclosures

IT IS high time that the "embattled farmers" of our American middle-west were given the key to this wholesale looting of western farm properties, under the excuse of "necessary" bank foreclosures.

It is high time that the leaders of the Farm Revolt were more artfully enlightened as to exactly what, and who, it is that they are fighting.

It is high time that the hard-working tiller of the soil was properly and correctly "tipped off" as to why the various agencies of political relief do not get down to brass tacks and do some real relieving, instead of taking the form of still more mortgages that now cover everything from the man's eleven children to the shirt on his back.

There is a story behind all this wholesale foreclosing and rediscounting that thousands of our distressed farmers know nothing about, and suspect even less.

It goes deeper than a few harassed banks being forced to clamp down on the farmer's real estate in order to protect loans that they made when times were good. It cannot be understood until certain facts of Unwritten History are clearly and indisputably revealed.

The local bank, now being called to do the dirty work, is nothing but the unwitting dupe of interests far removed from the scenes of tumult, whose true purposes and objectives are as subtle and dastardly as the creation and projection of the Depression itself.

Thousands of Gentile bankers in our small towns are innocent as babes as to what the distress is all about.

THE AMERICAN farmer knows in a general way that the county bank which seems so hostile and avaricious to him at present, is tied up with some mysterious far-off Moloch of Finance that is vaguely referred to as "Wall Street."

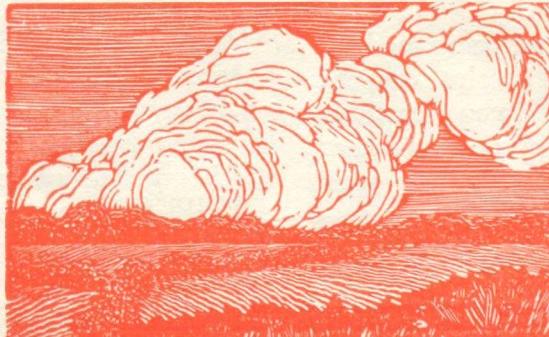

He has heard in a general way,—that is, as much as his subsidized and intimidated press would let him hear,—that "back east" there are certain financial set-ups, supposed to have been engineered by a pitying officialdom, that are on their way to "relieve" him with all the speed of an anesthetized turtle pulling a covered wagon.

He hears of reconstruction finance corporations that are somehow tied up with the public money, that find quick ways to loan Charley Dawes' Chicago bank, ninety million dollars in a few sessions over a lunch table.

When the benevolence of these corporations gets as far as Iowa, Wyoming, or Oregon, it thinks so much of a mere $800 that the mortgage drawn to cover the loan for that amount is spread until it covers even the cracked pitcher of Bennington pottery that the farmer's Aunt Jane brought out from Vermont when he was only knee-high to the prevailing grasshoppers. And what grasshoppers!

The farmer, who has no means of prying Behind the Scenes and knowing the stark truth about what is going on, thinks all this is the dastardly avarice of the monied classes and wants to hamstring every individual east of the Mississippi who owns an automobile worth more than $3,000.

He thinks that this difference in treatment is because "them easterners" don't like the smell of a cowbarn brought into their delicate drawing-rooms where the floors are spread with Oriental rugs bought with money from frenzied stock-market speculation.

He doesn't dream that the interests who are truly hamstringing him, want him to believe exactly such nonsense, and encourage him in believing it—because if sufficient hatred and distress can thus be aroused the farmer himself will get busy and unwittingly advance the interests of the true instigators of the Revolt who envision it as serving quite other purposes.

What the American farmer, who is having his property taken away from him—and his leaders who are risking their necks and freedom challenging the tactics of official dupes,—are totally unaware of, is that much of this is a deep-laid and execrable piece of shylock manipulation from overseas.

What the American farmer and his leaders obviously do not know about, is that the brag has gone forth that these foreign Jewish bankers "will have the American people hired help on their own properties within this generation" and it is the concrete making good on this brag that is now taking place on the tumultuous surface of county banking affairs. Please remember that Henry Ford tried to convince you five years ago that this was coming!

If any American farmer being ejected from his property because he cannot meet the exactions of his country bank thinks this is nonsense or race prejudice, there are not wanting men in this nation who are prepared to prove it to him, no matter who he is, or where he may reside!

IT IS a Herculean job to make the average American believe that there are people, in Europe or anywhere, who are making it their business to "move in" on America, take it over bodily—both politically and economically—appropriate its gigantic assets to their own nefarious purposes, and run the people of the United States to further their racial aims and pursuits.

These people want the sum-total of American wealth, they want control and directorship of our lands, our farms, our factories, our mines. More than all else, they want the destruction of our Christian religious institutions!

They want to do exactly the same thing with America that they have done with Russia—and that they were on their way toward doing with Germany before Hitler stepped in and threw a monkeywrench into their monopolistic plans and brazen manipulations.

You farmers to whom this article may come, do not have the slightest conception of the real truth about the Hitler Movement in Germany, what kind of a man Hitler really is, or what purposes and projects he is seeking to work out among the German people to give them their country back unshackled into the hands of pure-blooded Germans.

It suits the purposes of the same elements who are now using the county bank to take your farms away from you, to malign and misrepresent Hitler in this country.

Nevertheless, there is a concerted attempt being made to put these foreign conspirators into a place of absolute despotic power here in our United States—and to tell you something of the truth about the matter for present purposes we need go no further back in history than the close of the great World War.

THE WORLD is presently to know the truth, that it wasn't the German people themselves that forced the war on Europe and the world. It was a Hebrew clique in Germany that is also known to have financially subsidized and manipulated Russian Communism.

They expected Germany and her Central Powers to win that war, when, being in control in the Fatherland it would thenceforth be in control of all those nations conquered by the Fatherland.

But God Almighty decided against their despicable designs and the war was won instead by the Allies. Whereupon the Allied statesmen, who were perfectly well aware of the facts from beginning to end, proceeded to saddle the cost of the war on those on whom it belonged.

Because these people or their representatives more or less own or control the big city press throughout America, they are vaguely referred to as "the German industrialists."

Really they were two or three houses of international Jewish bankers, with offices in every country in the world, and their fingers and henchmen in the governments of every nation in the world.

But—and here is where most people are fooled—they were out to do more than merely succeed in a profitable banking business!

They were truly out to inflict their own forms of despotic political dictatorship on all the Christian countries of the world. Their own writers declare that this is so!

That is the ambition that the wrong outcome of the war—to them—temporarily sent askew.

They had previously succeeded in Russia, because her masses were poor, ignorant, unorganized, and smarting under the pain of czarist autocracy—but the more civilized and advanced Christian countries presented something different as a problem.

So when the enlightened Allied statesmen gathered around the Peace Table, they saddled the cost of the war exactly where it belonged, and they put teeth in its clauses to make these malefactors pay up.

Enraged at the misfire of their plans and strategies they turned at bay and snarled back: "Very well! Then we will show you that we have ways of taking reprisals on you that will not squeeze us for all this, half so much as you imagine!"

WHEN they saw there was no other way out of the Peace Treaty, they first tried to sidestep by debauching the German currency. Whereupon the Allies evolved the Dawes Plan and the Young Plan, that took direct charge of Germany's assets, of which those of the malefactors constituted the greater portion.

"Very well!" snarled the international schemers next. "You undoubtedly think yourselves clever. But we will show you how we will outwit you yet."

What did they do?

Having tremendous bond sales houses in New York, and other great American cities, they immediately offered to American investors between seven billion and 14 billion dollars' worth of various Reparations bonds.

In other words, they sold a stupendous amount of prettily lithographed paper to gullible American investors, who "fell" for the sales because of the former prestige of the houses out of which they came, and drained this money out of America—as much of it as possible in gold.

Then they attempted to turn about and pay off the peace-treaty exactions to us, with our own money!

It seemed to work for a little while, but boiled down to easily understandable fact it meant that the pure-blooded German people awakened to the realization that they and their children were going to be made the goats in the last analysis, having to redeem those staggering amounts of bonds for which their country had not received the cash.

Of course the Hebrew bankers who had resorted to this cute chicanery never intended to redeem those bonds themselves—in other words, buy back this quasi-spurious paper.

They meant to keep as much of this American gold as they were allowed to keep, or could fanagle, and in course of time repudiate the bonds.

Otto Kahn, of the house of Kuhn-Loeb, had the amazing effrontery to actually testify to that effect in front of Hiram Johnson's investigating committee last summer, in the Senate.

He said: "In my humble opinion, those funds which the American people have paid over for those bonds, can never be collected."

Otto should know. It is of public record in the McFadden testimony in the House that Otto's banking concern played practically a major part in unloading most of that German paper on the American people.

Hence with these tremendous sums so gone out of American business, and with no payments of size coming back to redeem the bonds as they fell due, we Americans saw business so crippled that it has finally come almost to a standstill.

This standstill was mis-named a "Depression" . . .

Still, the diablerie does not end there.

In order that the German people might never rise up and fasten the war guilt where it rightfully belonged, or try to save their national honor by making good on these slathers of lithographed bonds—from which the Jewish bankers had profited far more than the German Republic—these same international interests began to introduce political ideas and "ideals" which are recognized throughout the world as Communism.

Communism, for all the hifaluting talk about the power of the proletariat, is a one-man show—a dictatorship—as we see it being practiced now in Russia under Stalin.

The international element, "these banking industrialists," could control Communism through the financial aid extended to such a dictator.

In Communism there is no troublesome Congress to deal with; they could make their deals with one man at the top and he simply issued his fiats and ukases, and 40 million people had to do as he said or be shot at sunrise.

So they began working overtime to turn Germany over to a similar state of affairs.

Hitler arose and threw a spoke into their brazen and wicked machinery!

So in this United States where the same clique is in almost 100 percent control of press, screen, and radio, a great blast of vilification was turned loose against Hitler, leading the American people to think him a monster, usurper, and persecuting despot.

Hitler had simply succeeded in doing what the Allied statesmen, including Woodrow Wilson, had been unable to do—and these Semetic "victims" are frothing at the mouth, because they cannot get at him.

Finding themselves completely hamstrung in Germany, their alternative is to speed their efforts in America and turn gullible America Communistic, so that if they are unable to manipulate Germany and her future war-credit payments—which might come ultimately out of Hebrew pockets—they will be able to manipulate and control the United States, with which Germany under Hitler will have to deal.

IT IS for this reason that we find the Communist workers, agitators, and missionaries, everywhere throughout America supplied with unlimited money and treated with so much consideration, apparently, by controlled or intimidated officialdom. Take note that these Communists are Hebrews.

With the wealth of the entire world to draw upon, certainly most of the 7 to 14 billions of dollars that has short-suited the United States of cash, these strategists can control Mr. Roosevelt and his administration by putting conditions about him against which there is only one way that he can act: and that is, the way the international plotters want him to act.

It is not a question of Roosevelt's honesty.

It is a case of Roosevelt's predicament.

Hastening this state of Sovietism in the United States as fast as they can humanly force it, they are obviously grooming our acquiescent President to be another Kerensky, jamming bills through Congress unread and undebated that are in their own favor exclusively, making it a criminal offense for the American public to own gold, compelling the public to turn over its gold to them, mysteriously obstructing all forms of true relief in Washington, adroitly editing farm bills so that help for the farmer may be delayed as long as possible, stirring up the negroes throughout the South to acclaim Communism, staging riots in our great cities, gradually drawing the puckerstrings tighter and tighter about Constitutional rights, and only waiting the psychological moment to suddenly spring to the forefront of affairs and cry: "No recovery is possible from this world-wide economic emergency unless your President—or someone else of our choice—is given absolute dictatorial and autocratic powers!"

Now where does the American farmer and his wholesale mortgage foreclosures come in, in the face of this stupendous European plotting?

IT IS all very simple and obvious. With business gone to pot in America because the currency necessary for business has been skimmed off and taken to Europe—so that our government has to print paper money called Liberty Notes—the American farmer cannot sell his crops, much less get a living price for them. So his county bank starts to foreclose when he can't meet his mortgage payments.

Observe how the machinery works. The county bank forecloses in the interests of its depositors. Thereby it gets all clogged up with dead "paper." Whereupon, this same Jewish financial clique rubs its oily hands and says: "We will set up a reconstruction finance corporation (or a farm-loan bank, or whatever the expedient of the moment happens to be). We will make your banks solvent by using part of the 7 to 14 billions we took from you, to 'rediscount' all this farm paper. In other words, we will put gold tokens, or silver coins, into the vaults of your banks, thereby making them 'sound'. But we are in possession of the actual deeds and titles until your country banks take that gold out and send it back to us—which they can't do without being declared 'unsound' again. So we are in final possession of the farm lands and homesteads of you gullible American Christians, and we can thus drive you to such extremities that you will finally cry in your sufferings: "Anything is better than this, even Communism. So let's give Communism a try!" And under Communism they've got you at a rifle-point.

ALL THIS picketing and rioting throughout the middle-west, therefore, is really playing the game of the international strategists, "making the suffering so severe that our embattled farmers will embrace the 'beauties' of workhouse Sovietism, controlled by a supreme dictator at the top." Who will be controlled in turn by a few alien money barons all of one race. Do you get it?

The county bank has to foreclose on a farmer's property to preserve its financial integrity. It sends the county sheriff and his men to take possession. There is a gun-fight or a melee. Or there is an auction at which a cow is sold for 10 cents and a thousand acres of fertile prairie for $1.25. A lot of uninformed, rural Americans, never dreaming where the true motivation for all this comes from, are scooped in by the sheriff's men and toted off to jail.

Meanwhile, in Washington, in New York, in London, in Paris, in Hamburg, in Berlin, in Moscow, the Big Brains behind the whole plot watch these surface incidents and wonder how long it will take for these agricultural gullibles to get "enough" and come out openly for their Communist Dictatorship.

Of course the average American farmer, tilling his little patch of Iowa corn, knows nothing of all this diablerie.

He is too mentally wearied with worrying over continued possession of his homestead, or wrestling with the county banker—who is duped just as badly as his bankrupt farmer client.

Agitators visit him, cleverly disguised missionaries of Communism pat him on the back, sympathize with him, and talk vaguely but blisteringly of "Wall Street" back of it all.

Wall Street, as Wall Street, has no more to do with it than Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington or Fourth Street in Sioux City, Iowa!

The American farmer, as well as his county banker, as well as his county peace officers, as well as his Christian Constitutional Government, is being "taken for a ride" by an international predatory non-Christian element whose activities are so sizable and audacious that the average homesteader simply can't conceive of them.

BUT THERE are large numbers of men and women, scattered throughout the whole 48 States of this American Union, who are not dreamers, alarmists, or fanatics, who have probed to the very bottom of this whole Communist activity, engineered and financed on funds first looted from the American people in exchange for uncollectible reparations paper.

The Jew Benard M. Baruch, one of Franklin D. Roosevelt's closest "advisors" is reported to have once remarked: "There are peasants in Europe, why not peasants in America?" Meaning, of course, Gentile peasants.

Such is the plot behind farm foreclosures.

But the facts are known to a host of men and women, and they are now confronted with the problem of how to get them into the hands of the "embattled farmer" so that he acts with wisdom and not in provincial blindness.

These men and women have the information, secured at great personal hazard in cases, but they have no vast international slush-fund to draw upon for their distribution.

They realize, as Hitler realized, that "nothing but a steel wedge can split a hardwood block"—and they feel that there is only one way to wreck this great predatory power and drive it from America.

First of all, America as a Christian people must recapture possession of its own government. It must arouse and fight to the death any secret and subtle moves to foster a dictator on this nation, in the guise of a docile American President or anyone else who is not of the whole people's spontaneous choice.

And the government must be recaptured by making America a real democracy in this: That every last bit of legislation enacted anywhere in the United States, by either State or Congressional bodies of lawmakers, must be submitted periodically to the people themselves before it can become law that everyone is legally bound to obey!

THAT puts the hatchet squarely into the chicanery of this unholy alien moneybund making deals, polite or otherwise, with equally hapless lawmakers, intimidating or duping them into passing measures that enthrall the American people, more and more securely, month after month.

If the American people cannot be trusted to pass on their laws, they cannot be trusted to pass on those who purport to be competent to initiate the laws, and our free democracy is a failure and a farce!

This great body of Protestant Christian patriots who know are organized "under-cover" in 46 States.

There is not a distressed farmer in America who should be without the information—accurate and specific to the last degree—and the concerted aid that they are in a position to give him.

If you have never heard of THE SILVER SHIRTS of America it is time to investigate them, for this their weekly publication prints facts that have brought threats to its editor's life but that have awakened 50,000 patriotic Christian Americans to a realization of those facts—people who are now being held in leash with difficulty.

FARMERS of America! Do not be hoodwinked! Know those who are ultimately getting possession of your rich farmlands, and why! Arise to this menace to your Christian institutions and Constitutional principles! Support your true leaders who are risking their lives in their audacious challenge to this lecherous moneybund! If need be, get into a Silver Shirt and present a massed front to the foreign enemy who has bragged that he will have you hired-men on your own lands within this generation!

If you want true information as to what the future holds, what measures and methods can be pursued to forever smash this clutch of predatory Communistic foreigners on your throats, you can have it—pressed down and overflowing

This Nation Must Come to Christian Democracy!

THE DAYS and the weeks go by. A Congress of straw men sits to receive and put the rubber stamp of legislative authority on the ukases of a political chieftain dignified by the office of the nation's Chief Executive, who continues to experiment with the United States Government. He is casting terrific dice with Time, hoping desperately that he will roll numbers that will bring back the flamboyant prosperity which America enjoyed in 1929. He has no real program. He admits quite frankly himself that his measures are experiments. If they fail, he assures us that he will try new. He could not put his New Deal into three hundred words to save his immortal soul.

Now we have no quarrel to pick as yet with Franklin D. Roosevelt—aside from some of the men whom he allows to privately “advise” him. We know them to be men who for the past three years have been joyously looting the United States in secret, and we say that an honest man has no business trafficking with them in any shape, manner, or form.

How far Franklin D. Roosevelt takes their “advice” the future must reveal—while the common folk as the dumb sufferers are called to pay all penalties for any of his mistakes based on shoddy or pernicious counsel.

The short-memoried public, made up of sentimentalists, has already forgotten—thanks to this flood of Hebrew manufactured propaganda—that all his life Franklin D. Roosevelt has been a Tammany politician, that he owes his present elevation to Tammany, that Tammany takes full credit for hoisting him to the Presidency, and that he thus is sponsored by the most corrupt political organization that has ever existed in the history of the nation, which yearly makes the government of New York cost two-hundred millions more money than it costs to run the entire Japanese Empire, the expense of the war against China included.

Circumstances—according to his Tammany political reasoning—may require that he listen to these traducers of America’s religious, political, and economic institutions. Certainly his Gold Ukase was open-and-shut class legislation against the Constitutional rights of the common-folk, and his glib radio talks by no means stack up with the facts as enlightened men know them.

But all the same, we are disposed to give the man time to prove to our citizenry that he has no more infallible way of saving the nation than did his predecessor, Herbert C. Hoover.

Criticizing Franklin D. Roosevelt, however, or adulating him as the greatest President, that America has ever had—before he has been in office long enough for the efficacy of his policies to be revealed—is adolescent psychology for which Americans are famous—or infamous.

To men who know of the chicanery and debauchery that is now going on wholesale behind the scenes—and there are many of them—the patient and child-like faith of the American people that out of all the lechery and log-rolling, out of all the pillaging and “experimenting,” out of all this fiddling while the nation burns, will come a wholesome, constructive program, returning us to the prosperity of 1929, is nothing short of piteous.

The gullible public, unable to express itself facilely, utterly at the mercy of a czaristic Congress, incapable individually of striking back at alien despoilers, manifests the psychology of the chorus girl who, finding herself enciente, rubbed herself with vanishing cream and felt that after all, everything might yet be well.

Meantime the political experimenting at the head of the nation takes the form of little patch-work palliatives, this Bill and that Bill, class legislation for bankers, fix-it legislation for farmers, fix-it legislation for anybody and everybody who can bring enough duress in various forms on the Administration, but precious little for the patient, patriotic, average citizen who has had his morale traduced by the psychology that he isn’t so much, can really do nothing, and who for the first time is casting interested eyes at the tenets of Communism.

WHAT TRULY is going on is the forlorn, childish, or moronistic attempt to bolster up a structure of Greed and Grab that has wrought its own ruin and performed its own suicide. But Tammany says it can still perform the miracle of restoring our former false prosperity to life, and so 120,000,000 gullible Americans still hang on, refuse to consider the dire facts, and are kept in wicked ignorance of the knowledge that there is any alternative but Socialism or Communism.

The bigots, ignoramuses, and despoilers, hoot down any suggestion that there is any wholesome, sound, constructive alternative, and damn the suggestion as “Utopian” . . .

Walter Winchell calls it Utopian and so it must be such.

But there is a complete Plan, water-tight in every detail, that no scholar has thus far been able to poke holes in, that is neither Capitalistic Grab, nor its pernicious antithesis—Socialism or Communism.

There is a New Deal that can be stated in three-hundred words, that does not destroy our republican or democratic form of government, that devastatingly emasculates the predatory money-bund either foreign or domestic, that puts an end to the Crime Wave, that banishes the banshee of hunger, that solves the Farm Problem to stay solved, that provides a job permanently for every man who is willing to work, that awards each man according to his capabilities, that so rigorously protects private ownership of property as to make it immune against foreclosure even for taxes, that utterly abolishes taxes without crippling the government in the slightest item, that settles the Veterans problem and the bonus, that provides old-age pensions, but most important of all, puts control of the lawmakers directly in the hands of the people from week to week and month to month, exactly where it belongs in a true democracy.

This Plan rests on no violence for its introduction, it is so simple that a child can understand it, it can be set up by the American people within one week—if they fully enlighten themselves as to its provisions and potentialities—it makes graft or economic spoliation absolutely impossible after its adoption, and it would put every man or woman who had a job in October, 1929, back on that job within 48 hours at their 1929 wages.

If these contentions can be sustained, would not such a "New Deal" be so actual and tremendous as to make the tragic experimentings of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Bernard Baruch nothing but attempted black legerdemain by comparison?

THE AVERAGE citizen cries skeptically: "But if there is such a Plan, if there is such a New Deal, if there is such a Government System, why have we not heard of it before? Why do the newspapers and the economists not take it up and discuss it? Why does the President himself, if he be an honest man, not consider it?"

The answer is as simple as it is heartrending.

The Plan—known as Christian Democracy—is anathema to the "same old clique" of Greedy Grabbers who are in control of the Democratic Administration as they were of the Republican Administration, and if they allowed the slightest popular publicity to get started about it, they would be hurled from their wicked power to exploit the American people before the Plan had been in operation ten hours. The Plan, this truly New Deal, would blast them into innocuous desuetude, by the very nature of its workings so they would have no more to say about legislation in favor of their vested interests than the lowest truck-driver in a Sioux City stockyards.

Do you think they want that to happen?

No, they want the American people to believe that there are only three systems of social administration in all the world—Capitalism, Socialism, and Communism. If people don't want Socialism or Communism, there is nothing left for them to do but perpetuate Capitalism—and applaud a Chief Executive who is trying to bolster up its tottering corpse by avowed "experimentings" and Tammany and international-Jewish "counsellings" . . . so they preach.

None of their historians or economists mention the untold generations in which a highly civilized people: the Incas, lived under the fundamentals of the same plan in Peru before the coming of the Spaniards, amassing such wealth that the Old World looters carried off 150 million dollars in gold in return for bringing them "Christianity." And yet the Incas are represented to our modern youth as being nothing but Indian barbarians.

No mention is allowed of the 2,500 years in which the same plan was in such perfect operation throughout Cathay that in the whole width and breadth of the Chinese Empire there was not a single beggar.

A span of 2,500 years is a long, long time for a governmental system to survive.

Yet historians and economists, scared to death of their jobs from endowments bestowed by the Greedy Grabbers, preserve a careful hush-hush policy on any such intelligence.

That wise men in this generation know of the details of the Plan in full, have preserved it or recovered it, by means not discussable here, cuts no figure with these predatory cliques who are in czaristic control of our institutions at present and mean to see that they continue in control so long as the public can be made to stand for it by being kept ignorant.

THE great banking houses of Morgan, Kuhn-Loeb, Speyer, Rothchild, Dillon, Read & Company, could not continue in existence a day after Christian Democracy went truly into effect. And yet so equitable is the Plan that not a single citizen in America would lose a dollar, now or at any time in the future, by having these swollen aggregations of pernicious wealth dispensed with.

There are not wanting men at the head of predatory institutions in these United States who will not hesitate to order murder done, before they will see Christian Democracy take root in this utterly debauched and ruined nation of ours. They have said so. And their past behavior bears out their threats.

Christian Democracy is the simple, sane incorporating of the United States of America into a colossal People's Corporation, in which all the citizens are Common and Preferred Stockholders, with voting rights as facile and effective as in any corporation of the present in commercial business, and where every citizen draws some sort of dividend according to his capabilities and industry.

It apportions the aggregate production of the United States as any great business corporation would apportion its output among its sales force, according to the consuming demands of its clientele.

It makes the present governing bodies of the United States the governing officers and executives of the Great Corporation of the United States, with scarcely a single change excepting to render them at all times directly accountable to the voting stockholders, thus restoring our administrative government to the common people at once and enabling them to control the integrity of public office as well as to maintain its efficiency.

THE people of the United States must come to Christian Democracy because it is the only alternative that will correct present abuses while at the same time preserving our cherished institutions. The Plan is no more Utopian than the incorporation of a commercial business is Utopian. It is the same ordinary horse sense applied to executive government of the people's business that is now applied to the modern commercial corporation enabling it to be conducted efficiently and economically that it may pay dividends to its stockholders.

Why not investigate, become fully informed about this Plan, and introduce something that will truly save these debauched United States?

If there is such a plan, and it is sound, you can quickly decide on its merits for yourself. But get the information!

"Men Are Your Children!"

Y DEARLY BELOVED: Take heed to mine instruction, verily practise it;

2 Say to those who detain you with requests: There is One who requesteth of us, who hath prior claim upon us.

3 This is important: That ye force that claim and live it Beauteously.

4 When the times are come that ye do stand in high places, the nations of this world shall look to you for guidance; I say, the choice ye have made is not a small one;

5 It encompasseth the earth: men sit in high places tonight who have need of you in that ye are my servants and my ministers;

6 Ye do go to them, I tell you, as the ways are opened; ye do stand before them, declaring your Lord's transactions from the Throne of Spirit.

7 Ye do say to them: Wist ye not that we are those sent to you of old? look on us and marvel not, but hear our words, that we may inform you of that which ye know not.

8 Verily shall they listen.

9 The things of earth are ephemeral things, but ye do speak to incarnate spirits; always remember it.

10 No good cometh otherwise.

11 Ye speak as those having authority of me, ordering the world's ways of me, telling men to put up their arms and live beautifully together.

12 Now I tell you most important of all: Ye are coming to a place where men shall revile and curse you, they shall try to spit upon you and tear you down from where I place you.

13 Know that they are sons of evil, mischief-makers, whoremongers of national honor and virtue, sons of dissatisfactions, daughters of infamy; they beat their hands and cry with a loud voice: Get hence for ye do defile our doctrine!

14 This is to be expected, beloved.

15 Mark ye well that they shall come to your saying: We do give you our wealth if ye do recant, we give you honor if ye do disbelieve, we give you privilege if ye will be one with us and refute what ye have preached.

16 Verily, verily, in that day ye shall say: The Lord God have mercy on you, for we will have none of it; ye shall send them on their ways to bite their fingers at their leisure.

18 It cometh! it cometh! I see you making mock of them already and I am pleased; I see you standing in high rostrums and declaiming that the Master hath said: Except ye become as children ye cannot know the glories of obedience.

19 There come to you large numbers who say: The earth

20 I say, laugh at them, protect them not if they call on you for succor when the Word is manifest and the Time of Trouble cometh;

21 Protect them not when they revolt and say: Have mercy for we are ignorant!

22 Verily they are not ignorant; they are liars and spitters on the Truth.

23 These things are important: that ye revile not yourselves with idlings, that ye go abroad in the highways and meet those who have been one with you in days bygone and who now hold the keys to strategies of statesmanship.

24 I tell you, my beloved, they are my servants so great that when ye do know their identities ye do gasp in your marvelings.

25 Verily, beloved, they do my will; verily ye do meet those who say: Is it not written that we be coming unto tasks together? we have heard it in our hearts and are prepared to serve as ye direct.

26 I come to you presently in a great light, surrounded by the brethren whom ye know intimately; they see me daily, yea they see me hourly; they know not my plans for worldly reform; I tell them only when the hour arriveth.

27 My people are those where dwell greatest numbers of the goodly company in that they are oldest and wisest in all society; they do but tease the nations who declare: Let us make mock of such allegiance and destroy it.

28 Lo, the destruction cometh: Know that I decree it.

29 I do send you forward in circumstance that ye may know those who rule countries as ministers; I open the way for you to have speech with them of length; I put speech in your mouths describing my purposes in you, to you, through you, and of you;

30 I teach you etiquette and custom from contact with them; I bring you from such contacts to write for the nations, saying: Thus the Lord decreeth, that we shall be as brethren, sons of one mother.

31 Harken to my words, that the law be fulfilled.

32 This, my beloved, is my message: Prepare yourselves for government, prepare yourselves for leadership, prepare yourselves for ruling in the name of Our Lord whom ye love and whose compassion for you is vaster than the ocean's depth.

33 Men are your children: I give you paternity over them in their hearts; look ye well to your procedure, that it be circumspect.

PEACE.

Why America is Called to Suffer this Turmoil . .

Psychically Received

MERICA as a country is possessed of two woes: She is aware of her deficiencies as a leader among the nations, without transcendent authority manifested as yet to show her the path she should tread to get out of her difficulties, and,

She is resentful as a nation that it is necessary for her to turn from her old methods and practices and embrace new.

In this she is not recalcitrant so much as foolhardy. She is possessed of an assurance that whatever comes to her is for the best, without at any time realizing that nations, like men, must choose their pathways and conduct themselves after methods derived from the accurate discrimination between right and wrong.

America is foolhardy in that she imagines that she is self-sufficient, self-sustaining, isolated, apart from all sister nations in her conduct, better than most one minute and foolishly subservient to foreign "culture" the next. She believes she can run her own affairs without the slightest advice from abroad, and then does nothing of the sort. She lets her affairs be run by anybody that comes along, providing he is sufficiently persuasive and makes out a case of popular profit resulting from his leadership.

It is the old, old story of everybody's leadership being a sort of anarchy. Your nation as a nation is not yet politically conscious. She has politics galore but no political acumen. She has leaders who lead for a little time and then depart, when they have filled their purses or had their vanity fed by passing popularity.

America is suffering right now from lack of true leadership. But what does this leadership consist of? Let us study the question for a moment and arrive at a complete understanding of America's panic in the present crisis.

AMERICA is certain that she is going to pull out of this depression, for instance: she has been told that she has weathered other economic tempests, therefore the present tempest must blow over. Now undoubtedly it will blow over, that is, it will not continue indefinitely. But America is making a tragic mistake in accepting that this tempest is a tempest in reality. It is not a tempest. Something different is at work now in national and international affairs that has never maintained before, and probably never will again so long as America goes her way as a nation.

She is being led through a time of trial to show her something by economic suffering, and she must learn the lesson well this time, or never learn it at all. In other words, she will pass as a nation if she does not take heed to her national political procedure. But this is, of course, unthinkable, besides not being allowed by the Higher Authorities.

America is passing through a period where she is enforcedly revaluing her institutions. She is being made to feel as a nation that she is a nation. She is having it brought home to her people that their institutions are gravely at fault and that if they do not alter them for the better there is to come a sort of American nihilism.

Now this again is unthinkable, which is why we introduce the subject of true leadership.

True leadership says to a nation: Do thus and so that you may prosper. It may not be the thing that a majority of the citizens want to do. It may be something that is quite foreign to their natures as citizens. No matter. True leadership comes out boldly and announces a course which the nation must pursue and then leaves it to the times to show the people en masse that if they would only embrace the principles laid down, there would be an end to their woes.

Now taken in the present case, it is patent that America has suffered from a lack of leadership because those in authority have had no pretense of postulating anything that truly answers the American need. It is fair to consider what the American need truly is. What does America need more than all else tonight? Certainly not men as men, or ideas as ideas. She has plenty of both. But something vital is lacking. There is a dearth of information, first as to what is afoot in public life; second, what remedies will truly bring a lasting solution to her economic ills.

THE first is remediable because there is always information if people will only listen to it. There is never a result without a cause in your three-dimensional world, and if vast numbers of citizens are suffering, it is because they enjoy such suffering and are quite content to endure it until times turn for the better. It is the idea that times will turn for the better that is bringing on continued optimism day after day and week after week, a waiting for something to come of its own accord instead of recognizing that nothing ever comes of its own accord and that if the American people want an end to their misfortunes they have only to energize and end them. The matter is strictly up to them.

Now touching on, and appertaining to, the American problem, we have this to add to the list of her recalcitrancies: That she is eager to have a place in the sun by divine appointment without in the least admitting that she may not be worthy of it until she has set her house in order and made herself merit such divine approbation.

We are telling you this: The ways of America out of this stalemate are the ways of divine love made manifest in event. That is to say, America must realize in no uncertain terms that she has it in her own power to end this discord and set up harmony in her political and economic house. Lacking either the courage or the skill to do this is no excuse. It can never be done by waiting for some higher hierarchy to manifest and put such blessings of self-omnipotence into her lap.

Going back to our argument in the preceding page, let us say: The second thing that America needs to learn is a rigorous lesson in self-sufficiency that is truly self-sufficiency, not taking products out of the soil because God has been good to her in the matter of climate and features of terrain and calling that self-sufficiency, but calling her own spiritual soul to account and making it manifest to the world that she is quite capable of managing her own affairs and doing so with a minimum of noise and public disturbance.

NOW America has never had to do this in the past, and because she has never had to do it, she is possessed of the idea that divine providence can thoroughly be depended upon to provide her with a way from her stalemate and assure her a continuance of her national blessings on a greater scale than ever if her people will only be patient and wait for them to accrue.

Shame on you, peoples of America, for thinking that divine Providence is so infantile, so easily cajoled, so deftly tricked! The time has come when the public men of the nation, as well as the masses, must face the stern fact that the country is no longer an infant in national rompers, that must be awakened in the morning, fed with a spoon, given a perpetual education at the cost of divine taxpayers, and tucked into bed at night. America is coming to that stage in her national life and affairs where it is essential for her to recognize that she should be doing some things for herself, looking after her own house, ordering her own affairs from a maturing standard of public intelligence, not always leaving it to the Almighty to see that she gets a square deal just because Washington once went down on his knees at Valley Forge.

WHAT we are striving to tell the peoples of America through you and your increasing organization is, that it pays the maturing adult to be aware of his own responsibilities that come with self-assertiveness, self-adulation, license of freedom to go and come and to bear the distinctions of adulthood generally in a gracious and intelligent manner.

America is now recalcitrant in this, that she imagines the childhood state must always continue just because she has known divine omnipotence in her affairs in the past. The time arrives in the life of every maturing adult when the wise parent withdraws his support and tedious consideration for the child, helping it to make up its mind and generally exerting a supervising influence over its affairs, and lets that child proceed on its own, try out its own muscles, and generally order its own comings and goings in its own interests that it may ascertain from various kinds of experiences with others just how to effect its general social adjustments.

It is necessary for Americans as a race to take this view: that their country has been favored by divine providence many times when it by no means deserved such distinction. Their country has been the recipient of favors divinely motivated and bestowed, that have not been merited by the conduct of her peoples. That was all a part of her childhood training for the rigors of self-sustenance as the days arrived when maturing men and women must decide for themselves what is right and what is wrong.

The country is approaching those years when true leaders must recognize that this sort of self-evaluation through education of a different kind, is the order of events for exactly this purpose and achievement. America must learn that as a nation it is dressed in swaddling clothes, kilts, rompers, velvet panties, no longer, but is becoming an adult nation with all the responsibilities of adults toward itself and its dependents.

TRUE leadership in America has not yet appeared, and for a very good and mighty reason. It would be easy for the Lord-God to raise up saviors for the present situation, advising them exactly where to go and what to do, to end this stalemate in a twinkling. But how, think you, would such provision be received? Is it not apparent to you on every hand that what the nation is truly waiting for is a new Moses to lead it from its wilderness, someone to berate and spank it, or pick up the national machine like a locomotive that has gone off the rails, put it back on its tracks and fire up its boilers for a new burst of speed. But such a Moses is being denied the American people as yet because it is apparent that the moment he appeared, the public would cheerfully pass along to him the full load of its own responsibilities, and in the language of the day let the willing servant do the dirtiest work, the while berating, complaining, finding fault generally and acting like a petulant child.

No, the new Moses has not yet appeared because it is necessary for the American people to learn some mighty lessons.

THE first lesson that the American people will be forced to learn at the cost of great suffering is, that if they do not value their institutions enough to make a fight for them in their purity of concept and function, they are going to lose those institutions and have a form of slavery forced upon them which they may realize too late, when the cost of freedom may be another period of internecine strife. The average citizen must get it through his infantile brain that if he wants true democratic government, he has got to pay strict personal attention to the business of being the basic factor in such government. He has got to have it brought home to him by bitter loss, just what he has lost, that down a distant day he may place a value upon it, a value, that is, on something he now takes for granted.

There is no other way to train children in protecting their possessions than by letting them lose that which they cherish most, weep and wail over it for a time, and then have the wise parent point out how to go about the business of recovering, or finding, that which was mislaid.

It is so with America, and let no one tell you otherwise. The American people today place little or no value on free institutions chiefly because they have always had them and enjoyed them, and therefore have taken them for granted. A New Dispensation in public affairs is coming in, that will make a vast majority of the citizens awaken to those values in their institutions which they have always taken for granted.

You Should Receive the Silver Shirt Booklets . . .

THE SILVER SHIRTS are the only Protestant-Christian organization in the United States that have a cleanly cut, constructive, effective plan and platform for hurling the depredations of the alien money-bund out of America, emasculating the corruptionists in official life without resort to barbaric bloodshed, and turning the United States into a true democracy, sensitive to the dictates of a sovereign people. They are not fanatics. They are not alarmists. They are counselled by men and women who know the facts, and they are spreading those facts as fast as their numbers and financial resources permit.

They know the full line-up of the anti-Christian forces in America, who the public enemies and plotters are, what they have done, and what they are doing, in specific cases.

They are organized into State Encampments and Regional Posts. Information which cannot be broadcast in the public press is passed along to these Encampments and Posts.

They are rapidly becoming the great bulwark of Christian spirituality in these troublesome times through which our debauched nation is passing at present—and will continue to know until Sept. 16, 1936.

They are not a political party, nor a sect. They are an aggressive mass of Christian patriots who are getting results while a nation full of loquacious demagogues are merely tearing the air to shreds with vaporings of palliatives which never get further than the corner peanut-stand.

YOU can get full information about The Silver Shirts and their sound, practical, constructive plan to incorporate the United States into a colossal concern wherein the native citizens are dividend-receiving stockholders, by writing to their National Headquarters.

Their entire agenda of action is fully delineated in a series of twenty-two little Pocket Brochures, the first one of which will be sent you for the asking.

This national body of Christian patriots, which already numbers more thousands than representatives of the alien money-bund dream, receives little or no publicity in the banker-controlled press, and is not allowed to be publicized in any form by radio or on the movie screen.

For want of a better term to describe the new order which shall prevail when America has come from her manufactured anaesthesia and resumed control of her institutions under the shibboleth of "America for Americans!" it has labeled the saner and firmer form of republicanism in this nation The Christ Democracy.

Thousands of people are finding in the Silver Shirt elucidations of Christian Democracy their one great hope to which to tie the bark of their aspirations in this fearful tempest sweeping over our country.

In this great work of Liberation, clergymen, economists, journalists, and awakened business men, are joining in increasing numbers week by week.

The work of Liberation was born out of the rigors of the times, and to the amazement of scholars, a Plan has been concretely projected that is neither Capitalism, Socialism, or Communism, that will abolish hunger in these United States without resorting to the dole or advocating any silly or impractical Utopia—and whose efficacy is proven by the way it is drawing the fire of the money-bund's hired dupes and satraps.

THE suffering millions of this nation have within their own grasp the complete and immediate remedy for their sufferings. They are not called upon to bear this load of oppression, ignorance, and spoliation, one moment longer than is required for them to become enlightened as to what is possible as an alternative.

Technocracy was "picked up" by the controlled and intimidated "banker press" to give the public a toy that would distract its attention from the deeper debauchery that was in progress behind the walls of hapless officialdom. The Christ Democracy is one of the great revelations of the present day—something absolutely new in modern affairs—and proof of this contention is contained in the material itself.

A great new day is shortly to dawn for the farmers of this nation, but it is NOT coming in by means of patch-work bills introduced into a rubber-stamp Congress, and framed so that the continued sufferings of our farm people will make them resort to Bolshevism.

There is a way to handle our Farm Problem with the dignity and remuneration that it commands. But first the facts behind the spoliation must be known by the farm population itself.

They must know, these ground-down citizens of our soil, that there is deliberate connivance behind the psychological attitude which America is persuaded to take toward them. They must know who the specific malefactors are as individuals, what they are doing, where they hope to land.

Without this information our farmers are blundering, wrestling, tussling, and oftentimes cursing, in utter blackness.

Investigate The Silver Shirts! Convince yourself that their leaders have projected something absolutely new!

If it were not an effective answer to the plunder-bund there would be no campaign of suppression against it!

Silver Shirt Support to John A. Simpson!

The Scribe is limited in space this week due to the amount of material we felt belonged in an edition devoted to the farmers of our nation. But there is space for a few of the very pertinent remarks made by James A. Simpson, President of the National Farmers' Union, and which are quoted from the Congressional Record of March 28th, 1933.

They place him among the ranks of those who are striving against a government subversively controlled, but who nevertheless are fighting, and valiantly! His remarks follow:

President Roosevelt inherited a banking situation unparalleled in the history of the Nation. When he took the oath of office every state except one had declared a bank holiday, and that State officially declared it sometime during the afternoon of inaugural day. The new President found an old war time law under which he immediately issued a bank moratorium proclamation . . .

Some peculiar things, however, developed. As soon as Congress convened they were asked to pass a law dealing with the banking situation. Under that law, if a banker were to pay a debt the bank owed, it would send him to jail. I have heard some farmers remark, "I would like to have a law like that for farmers!" In other words, if you had a deposit slip and you went to the bank that issued it and said to the banker, "Pay me what you owe," the banker would reply, "I cannot; they would put me in jail."

Another thing we have out of this extraordinary condition; we have seen the basic money, gold, completely retired. We have seen the law make it a penal offense to use gold or a gold certificate as a medium of exchange . . .

Congress passed this bill in 6 hours. They did it without having an opportunity to read the bill.

The next bill put through congress with lightning like speed was the economy bill. It provided for a half billion dollar reduction in pensions and compensations to soldiers and in wages to government employees.

I am just as certain that to reduce wages will no more bring prosperity to this country than reducing prices of farm products in 1920 brought prosperity to the country. The facts are it was the largest contributing factor toward the terrible depression that followed the reduction of prices.

I quote from a statement of Thomas S. Hammond, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, in an appeal to ex-service men.

"All ex-service men who have the welfare of their country at heart are urged to communicate with Senators Lewis and Dieterich and request them to support the President's constructive economy program."

This statement, coming from the president of the manufacturers, exceeds in nerve and gall any statement I ever heard. The manufacturers of this country during the war robbed the Government of billions of dollars. Some of them were convicted and sent to the penitentiary. Many others should have been. For instance, the Government paid a billion dollars for airplanes, and not one airplane was ever furnished the Government fit for battle. Every American soldier who fought in the air was compelled to use either French or a British airplane. The International Harvester Co. sold to the Government every kind of farm implement they manufacture and shipped them to France. They even sold this Government and shipped to France thousands of International Harvester Co.'s manure spreaders. Just think of the International Harvester Co. having the nerve to complain of pensions and compensations paid to ex-service boys. Just think of the big bankers, who draw almost a billion dollars a year of interest from the Government, complaining of paying ex-service boys pensions and compensations.

I also find this Government the 15th of this month borrowing \$942,504,500 from the rich of the country and paying the highest rate of interest by the Government in years, $4\frac{1}{2}$. Here again it is well to observe they take from the ex-service boys' pensions and compensation fund to pay more interest to the ultra-rich.

I warn you radio listeners that when 90 percent of the newspapers of the United States endorse a national legislative program you can bet your last dollar that the program is satisfactory to the international bankers of Wall Street. I think the big bankers have relinquished direct control here at the National Capitol but have installed instead remote control.

McFadden's Epochal Speech is Available to You Again!

JUNE, 1932, Rep. Louis T. McFadden made a speech in Congress that ipso facto demanded the impeachment of the President of the United States!

He completely exposed the machinations of the International Bankers as the real factors behind the tragic seriousness of the Depression, and their diabolical control of this nation.

That speech has not been refuted! It deals with facts that would be libel if they were untrue. He was Chairman of the Committee on Treasury and Finance for five years and knows what he was talking about. The facts stand!

McFadden was ridiculed and silenced and has suffered what amounts to a political crucifixion. Huey Long and others are taking their place beside him. The true patriots find themselves alone against a Congress subversively controlled.

Get the facts for yourself! A printing of a thousand of these by The Foundation for Christian Economics were greedily absorbed two months ago. A new supply is available to you on a basis of twenty to the dollar. Write now, to:

WWNC Refuses Silver Shirts Use of Radio Facilities!

TUESDAY, noon, May ninth, J. W. McIver, the Commercial Manager of Station WWNC, walked into Liberation Headquarters and announced that their General Manager, D. Hiden Ramsey, had refused to accept the contract negotiated by Mr. McIver and the undersigned for the use of their station by William Dudley Pelley, as announced on this page in our May 13th issue.

No reason was given. No explanation offered, despite the fact that WWNC representatives saw the copy for our announcement and knew it was predicated upon their acceptance of our business. We signed the regular contract form which embodies every conceivable protection and safeguard for the station against misuse of facilities by the so-called client. Our broadcasts had to be submitted in complete manuscript form forty-eight hours in advance of going on the air, and the station reserved absolute and arbitrary censorship over the subject-matter. The rejection of contract could not have been a matter of credit as the money was on deposit for cash payment.

Why is Liberation refused the use of Radio?

What is behind this throttling of free speech in North Carolina? How can this modern tool of education and enlightenment be denied to Liberation and then be freely used by such air-pollution specialists as Walter Winchell and his ilk who drip, drool and drivel into microphones by the hour?

Why does General Manager D. Hiden Ramsey today say that WWNC refuses the business that yesterday his Commercial Manager, and Station Manager G. O. Shepherd, seemed anxious to get for the much needed revenue? Mr. Ramsey is also the General Manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times Company which publishes the only daily newspapers in Asheville. Last night The Asheville Times, and this morning The Asheville Citizen, carried a story on The Silver Shirts and quoted at length from the Liberation Weekly of May 6th relative to the attack by Winchell, upon The Silver Shirts.

Was pressure put upon the newspapers by advertisers who object to such truths and facts as Liberation publishes reaching the thinking American public?

Is this a concrete example of control of the supposedly free American press?

LIBERATION is the Weekly Journal of The Silver Shirts of America, the active civic organization of The League for the Liberation, published every Wednesday by Galahad Press, Incorporated, both subsidiaries of The Foundation for Christian Economics, Incorporated. Edited by William Dudley Pelley, commander of Liberation Forces. Published and printed at the Headquarters of the Foundation at Asheville, N. C. Subscription $5 per year of 52 issues, $3 for six months, $1 for two months. Entered as mail matter of the second class, November 2, 1931, at the postoffice at Asheville, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Correspondents are requested not to send registered mail requiring personal return signature-receipt to either Editor or Staff Members. Address correspondence and remittance, LIBERATION WEEKLY, Box 2630, Asheville, North Carolina.

(If undeliverable for any reason, return to sender, postage guaranteed)

Would it not be interesting to know from whom D. Hiden Ramsey takes orders? We wonder who is the real dictator of this radio and newspaper monopoly in Asheville? Who is the power behind the press in this proud Southern City of Western North Carolina?

Can it be possible that the slimy tentacles of the International Octopus have a strangle hold upon the radio and news facilities of a city so far removed from the blood-sucking sweat-shops of Tammany-controlled Gotham?

Is it significant that the Big Advertising Revenue of The Asheville Citizen and The Asheville Times comes from local stores under the domination of the National Association of Department Store Owners?

We wonder!

It is rather embarrassing to Liberation Weekly to have been so simple. Looking back, it seems childish for us to have made our announcement of the proposed broadcasts upon what we considered a definite agreement between gentlemen. Another time, in dealing with radio stations, we shall know that verbal understandings are only binding upon us until approved by the power behind the apparently responsible agents.

Liberation will be upon the air in the not too distant future. Praise God there still are some Radio Stations which actually are owned, operated and controlled by God-fearing American citizens. There are men of courage like Henderson at Shreveport who are Silver Shirts at heart and as soon as the necessary contact is established, the story of Liberation will be radiocast without the let or hinderance which would have pulled the punches of our virile and vigorous Editor had the facilities of WWNC been utilized.

If each Liberation reader would assume the solemn obligation of securing just one new subscriber each month, the means would be available to get on enough high-powered independent American-owned stations to secure a national coverage. We had hoped to start locally in a modest way and to gradually pyramid the returns until we attained full coverage of the United States.

However, "nothing happens by accident," and all true Liberators know the Father works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform.
